LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH 31, 1882.

NO. 101.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES

A RIVER HORROR.

The Steamer "Golden City" Burned at the Memphis Wharf.

Thirty-Five Lives Lost—Stove's Circus Burned—An Engineer Stands His Ground and Loses His Life.

MEMPHIS, March 30.—The Cincinnati and New Orleans packet Golden City, en route from New Orleans to Cincinnati, was burned at the wharf this morning at 4:30 o'clock. Between thirty and fifty lives were lost, principally women and children. The steamer when approaching her wharf, was discovered to be on fire. Her second engineer, Robert Kelley, immediately notified Capt. Purcell, the pilot on watch. The boat was headed for shore, and four minutes afterwards she touched the wharf at the foot of Beale street, where the coal fleet is moored. A line was hastily thrown ashore and made fast to one of the coal barges. The current being swift it soon parted, and the burning steamer floated on down the river.

A MASS OF FLAMES.
With many of the passengers and crew on board, who were unable to reach shore and were lost. The Golden City left New Orleans Saturday en route to Cincinnati. She carried a crew of about sixty and had about forty cabin passengers, fifteen of whom were ladies and nine children. Her cargo consisted of three hundred tons, among which was a lot of jute, in which it is supposed the fire originated.

KNOWN TO BE LOST.
Among those known to have been lost are Dr. Monahan and wife, of Jackson, Ohio; Mrs. Creary, of Cincinnati; Miss Luella Creary, of Cincinnati; W. H. Sherne, wife and two children; Oliver Wood and wife, of Massachusetts; Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Helen Percival, Mrs. E. Krouse and three children. The books being lost, it is impossible to gather a complete list.

FURTHER PARTICULARS.
The second engineer gave the alarm and remained at his post until cut off by the flames, which spread like lightning, sacrificing his life to save others. Nearly all the cabin and deck crew of the steamer saved themselves. Stove's circus was taken on board at Vidalia, La., and six cages of animals and birds, together with the ticket and band wagons, tents and horses, were lost. Marion Purcell was in the clerk's office when the alarm was first sounded and he rushed through the cabin, bursting open the stateroom doors and awakening the passengers. So rapid did the flames spread that within five minutes after the discovery of the fire, which broke out amidships, the after part of the steamer was all ablaze. Those that were saved had to flee in their night clothes. When the burning steamer touched the coal fleet and the tug Oriole, which was also burned.

THE NUMBER OF LOST.
As near as can be ascertained there were twenty-three ladies aboard, but two of whom, as far as known, were rescued. It is estimated that thirty-five lives were lost by the disaster.

Pat Haley and Mike McDonnell, the firemen who were on watch, say they saw the negro captain of the watch, named Wash, with his lamp in his hand looking for some of the deck hands. It was from him that the fire caught the jute stored in the center of the steamer, and as quickly as a flash spread to the other side of the steamer and up to the cabin. Haley ran up stairs to notify the head engineer, but by the time he reached the hurricane deck the flames had mounted almost to the pilot house, and he was driven back by the flames. He then rang the alarm bell, and seeing that the boat was approaching the shore, ran down the forward stairs and jump ed on board the tug Oriole just as the Golden City struck her. Seeing that the tug was sinking, He sprang aboard the steamer again and made his way to a coal barge lying alongside. Three negro deck hands and two white deck passengers were killed, when the tug was struck, as they were caught in the end side of the tug, Anna Boyd, the colored chambermaid, and her assistant were both lost. Mike Malloy and Pat Kinney, firemen, were saved; also M. J. Welan, second mate. Welan says he jumped overboard from the stern of the steamer as she floated down the stream. There were ten men on the fan-tail boat who must have been drowned, as when he leaped into the water he saw three men go overboard and drown. Others must have shared the same fate.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

Suicide of the Paying Teller of the Bank of the Republic.
WASHINGTON, March 30.—Jacob W. Kerr, until recently paying teller of the Bank of the Republic, killed himself to-day. He left a note saying: "Realizing that I have expended money belonging to others to an extent I can never repay, I have sought this relief from dishonor, sorrow and disgrace."

TRESCOTT'S DIPLOMACY SPOILED.
The Post will contain the following to-morrow: "Mr. Trescott's declaration that his mission to Chile has been practically ruined by the premature publication of his instructions, has caused a great deal of talk in the political and diplomatic circles of this city. Trescott telegraphs Secretary Frelinghuysen under date of March 5th, that Chile will not moderate the terms of peace which Mr. Frelinghuysen declared to be exorbitant. Mr. Trescott adds that the publication of the instructions to him, and the confidential telegram from him has made it impossible to secure modification of the terms from Chile."

CUT DEAD IN A BARBER SHOP.
Wade Hampton cut John Sherman dead in the barber shop of the Senate the other day. The scene in the barber shop has been the subject of much gossip among Senators, as a personal explanation in the Senate may follow.

The Normans Cleaning House.
SAUL LAKE, March 30.—John Taylor, apostle Joseph Smith and others have quietly removed their wives to separate houses, thinking thereby to avoid arrest. Taylor's first wife only resides with him at the official residence. Numerous polygamous office-holders have also resigned and their places been filled by monogamists. It is said that no polygamous marriages have been celebrated since the bill passed.

A Close Vote.
BOSTON, March 30.—The House by a tie vote defeated the bill prohibiting the sale and manufacture of liquors.

The Mutual Union Telegraph Company has passed into the hands of friends of the Western Union Company. Jay Gould, George T. Baker and Geo. S. Scott own a majority of the stock.

More of the Flood Disaster.
NEW ORLEANS, March 30.—A special from Troy, Louisiana, says: The water here is three feet ten inches above the 1874 flood. The boat engaged in rescuing cattle is supposed to have gone down in the storm on Monday on Catahoula Lake with one hundred head of stock. The hills in Catahoula Parish are crowded with people and cattle. The rising water has demoralized the negroes at Liddle's place, where one woman was drowned on Sunday. On the Mississippi place a house and family were washed away. The gin house at Horse Shoe, below Troy, containing a hundred negroes, is threatened with destruction.

A Fall Ticket.
HARRISBURG, March 30.—The State Greenback Labor Committee propose nominating a full ticket.
KANSAS CITY, March 30.—Dick Little a notorious member of the James gang, has been captured. He has made a full confession and will be used as State's evidence.

Teller thinks he will be Secretary of the Interior, and Beale Secretary of the Navy.
The prohibition bill was defeated by a tie vote in the Massachusetts House yesterday.

The Amherst College has sustained a loss of $185,000 by fire. It was insured for $72,000.

The river steamer Golden City was burned at Memphis yesterday. Thirty odd lives were lost.

It is now said sure that the Mutual Union Telegraph Company has disappeared down the capacious maw of the Western Union.

LIBELOUS.

We have heretofore refrained from noticing flings at the Times in the press of this city, but a particularly ungentlemanly one, when the spirit in which it is given is considered, is contained in the evening paper of yesterday. The matter is libelous, and was evidently done for the purpose of injuring our business. The Times has given no occasion for the fling, but has always been deferential and respectful, and will so continue, and this matter would not now be noticed except that the statement is made in such a positive manner that many will accept it as truth, of which quality it contains not an atom, as the writer well knew. The wonderful success which the Times has achieved is calculated, perhaps, to inspire jealousy in the fossilized journals of this city, but they will fail of their purpose in all such attacks. The item referred to is as follows: "We now learn that the DAILY TIMES has been sold to one of its late employees."

OUR MERCANTILE MARINE.

In all our seaports on the Atlantic and Pacific, as well as those of different countries in the various parts of the globe, the absence of American ships is very marked, and the question very naturally arises, "What has become of our immense fleets of clippers which, at one time were the boast and the pride of the nation, as they were the wonder of the whole world?" The number of vessels now employed in our own carrying trade or in that of the general commerce of the world, is certainly very small and the more so, seemingly, when compared with the mercantile marine of other great nations. That the war and the work of the cruisers then depleted and greatly curtailed the number there is no doubt but that should not have been enough to wipe out so effectually as has been done the shipping of a great power such as we are. But admitting that it had deprived us of all the vessels then used certainly more than sufficient time has elapsed to replace the entire loss, with even twice the number we had then afloat and of improved models, better materials and of greater capacity. There must have been some other very powerful reason, some extraordinary cause that prevented, so effectually too, the exhibition of that great recuperative power of this commonwealth and the enterprise of this people, both of which in every other direction, have been manifested in such a wonderful degree. Materials we possess, in great abundance too; money there is certainly no lack of, we have men skillful in design and plenty of well trained, practical mechanics that cannot be surpassed, in fact, every essential that is necessary we have within our reach. The prestige we so long enjoyed in the carrying trade of the ocean should again have been ours. We lead the world in the cheapness, safety, speed and extent of our great railroad systems and we should, as we easily could, be equally ahead of all other countries in building the largest, strongest, fleetest and best ships afloat and we would have been so, but for the following shortsightedness as it has been unfortunately destructive policy on the part of our general Government, which has discriminated in favor of a few against the interests of the whole people, and the honor and glory of the nation.

Our shipyards, instead of increasing ten-fold, are almost doing nothing, our builders being unable to compete with those of other powers, and thus what might otherwise become the greatest industry of our country has almost entirely ceased, or it is at least very limited in extent.

Great maritime powers, such as we might become, look to the mercantile marine for their sailors in times of war, for the use of the navy. To-day where is and in what condition is our navy? The former we have only got the skeleton of and the latter we might as well, perhaps better, be without. It is a constant and an enormous expense, and it would redound to the credit of the Government if it were abolished altogether.

Constituted as it now exists, in place of the present system of keeping up at a great and useless outlay, a lot of decayed and rotten old ships, let the Secretary of the Navy offer a bonus to a large number of sailing ships, to be built after a certain rule and plan, of from 500 to 2,000 tons—so constructed that propellers could easily be placed in each in time of need. Also a number of large steamers of a given plan and of sizes to be agreed upon. These ships and steamers to be used by their owners in time of peace, as merchantmen, but in case of war to be handed over to the Government at a pre-arranged rate, according to age and the use they have been put to. Each year so many new ones could be built and a similar number would become too old for Government use; thus new and strong ships would always be ready for service, and we would thus possess numbers of cruisers that at any time could be turned loose upon the merchantmen of the nation we might be at war with; and should large ironclads be sent to blockade our ports, they could be easily disposed of by torpedoes or other means. Thus we could cripple any navy and destroy the carrying trade of any nation in the world.

Government should then compel owners to take so many apprentices, according to the men required on each ship, these lads to be taught seamanship and navigation. Our captains would thus be supplied with competent and useful hands to manage and work these vessels, instead of the mobs of unsuitable loafers and landsmen, the off-southerly and refuse of foreign countries who are forced upon them.

The profession would thus become more honorable and elevated and the sailor would not be looked upon as the low, vile ruffian he is now considered.

Government would only need to keep a few hulks on which to teach men and boys the art of gunnery. In this they could be made thoroughly proficient. This department to keep up with the improvements of other nations both in the practice and style of arms and be prepared with a sufficient force to arm and man thousands of cruisers at the shortest notice. Thus at a nominal annual expenditure we could have a most efficient navy always ready. The enormous outlay required now every year, besides the lavish waste and extra large appropriations for the navy, would disappear, red tape would be at an end, and better and more effective work would then be done, than can ever be expected with the present roundabout, cumbersome and useless navy and system we possess.

STEPHEN CLEVELAND, a well-known printer of San Jose, for the past year foreman in the San Luis Obispo Tribune, is about to start a paper at Central City, Santa Barbara county.

A Sunday Law Conviction.
The first of the cases under the Sunday law was called in the Police Court of Oakland yesterday, the case being the People vs. F. Ball. By noon a jury was obtained and the hearing was begun. The testimony was voluminous, and although it was fully proven that the house was open on Sunday, the 19th inst., and that several persons drank at the bar, yet none of the witnesses would swear that any money passed over the counter in payment for the drinks, although they admitted that some one paid for them. At 5 o'clock they reported that they could not agree. They then stood eleven for conviction and one for acquittal. The Court ordered them back for further consideration of the case. At 7 o'clock the jury returned a unanimous verdict of guilty as charged.—San Francisco, Chron.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

EASTERN.

Senator Teller Says His Name Will go to the Senate Monday.

Page and Jones Laboring with the President—A Catholic Pastoral Letter—The Awful Floods.

Associated Press Dispatches.]
WASHINGTON, March 30.—Senator Teller told a brother Senator this morning that his name would be sent to the Senate next Monday or Tuesday for Secretary of the Interior. He said he had not expected to be nominated this week. The impression is growing here that Gen. Beale will be made Secretary of the Navy.

CHINESE CONSUL GENERAL.
The President has recognized Hwang Tuen Hsien, Consul General of the Chinese at the port of San Francisco.

PAGE AND JONES SKEIN THE PRESIDENT.
The positive statement made by Representative Page yesterday, and telegraphed in last night's despatches to the effect that the Chinese bill was certain to receive Presidential approval, was based upon some remarks made to him by the President several days ago, and not upon an interview yesterday morning, as was understood to have been the case. Rumors of an impending veto became so prevalent and positive to-day that Page and Senator Jones of Nevada, concluded they would see the President on the subject again, and they accordingly went to the White House this afternoon and had a long talk with him, in the course of which they urged upon his consideration all the arguments in favor of his signing the bill that could possibly be presented from every point of view. They found, as they expected, that an enormous pressure to have a veto has been brought to bear upon him by prominent Senators and Representatives, and several Cabinet officers, opposed to the bill, and by a multiplicity of outside influences, coming from railroad and steamship companies, from Eastern commercial interests, and from religious and so-called humanitarian societies all over the country.

WASHINGTON NEWS VIA NEW YORK.
What Grant Thinks—Making up the President's Mind.
New York, March 30.—The Graphic's Washington correspondent says: Gen. Grant, when asked his opinion of the Chinese bill, said if he had been in Congress he would not have voted for the bill in its present form. If he were President he did not know whether he should veto it or not. He thought the bill was objectionable in its present shape. He was not in favor of the Chinese coming to this country, but he thought the difficulty could be met in a better way than by legislation here. He was of the opinion that it could be arranged by a treaty so that the Chinese should stop immigration of their own accord.

CAN'T MAKE UP HIS MIND.
It is understood that the President has not yet made up his mind whether he will sign or veto the Chinese Bill, and he will reserve judgment on the subject until after Friday's Cabinet meeting.

THE CHINESE MINISTER.
A Washington special to the Cleveland Express says that the American Secretary of the Chinese Legation, denies that the Chinese Minister has threatened that in the event of the Chinese bill becoming a law, to break off friendly relations with this government. The Chinese Minister has not intimated to any official what action, if any, his government will take, for he does not know himself. It is known that he regards twenty years as excessive. He proposes to wait here in a month or two for Spain, with which government he has been directed to establish diplomatic relations. The President stated to-day that he had not yet determined what action he should take in the matter, but expects to reach a conclusion at the cabinet meeting Friday.

A Catholic Pastoral Letter.
CINCINNATI, March 30.—The Catholic Provincial Council which met here recently, prepared a lengthy pastoral letter to be read to all the churches. It received its first publication to-day in the Catholic Telegraph. It reviews the progress of religion and holds that all men are not equal, but that some should obey others. It denounces the attempts of labor unions to coerce labor and destroy property. The Irish World's method of advancing the cause of Ireland is denounced, but believes in the amelioration of the present condition of the Irish people. Sensuous or profane music should have no place in the church. Secret societies are condemned.

A Cave in a Mine.
DOVER, N. J., March 30.—Two men were killed and several injured by a cave in the Byram mine.

Higher than Ever Before Known.
NEW ORLEANS, March 30.—The people and stock of Groatchville will be taken promptly to Baton Rouge. Along the Atchafalaya, families are living with the stock on the levee banks. The houses for miles are deserted and the country is covered with water. The warehouses at Port Barry are flooded. The water is two feet higher than ever before known.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.
MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 30.—The Democratic State Convention is called for June 7.

Walker Hall Burned.
AMHERST COLLEGE, Mass., March 30.—The loss by the burning of Walker Hall, Amherst College, is $185,000. Insurance is $73,000.

Sir Sidney Waterhouse once Lord Mayor of London, who married Miss Williams, a San Francisco girl in Paris a few days since, first met her on the cars at Monterey. She is the daughter of Gen. Williams of this State, and has acquired a reputation for brilliancy and wit in San Francisco society circles.

PACIFIC COAST.

[Associated Press Dispatches.]
SAN FRANCISCO NEWS.

Another Blockade on the U. P.—Haiting Snows the Cause.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—Reports from points on the Central Pacific Railroad between Hall's and Wells Station are to the effect that the track is under water for many miles. The snow has been heavy in the mountains, and with the setting in of warm weather every ravine brings down a torrent each afternoon. Many washouts have occurred and all trains are stopped. The road will not be open for several days. A large force of men are at work, but owing to the rush of water during the day the labor has to be done mostly at night and early in the morning.

Honoring Sargent.
SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—Ex-Senator A. A. Sargent, the newly appointed Minister to Berlin, was tendered a splendid banquet and reception to-night at the Palace Hotel by a large number of merchants and professional men of this city. Several hundred guests were present, including the resident Consuls, Vice-Consuls and the leading representatives of other governments.

AFTERNOON STOCKS.
Mexican, 64; Ophir, 24; Nevada, 61; Eureka, 23; Overman, 25c; Utah, 41; Diablo, 41; Belle, 81; Bullion, 30c; Bodie, 5; Tiptop, 41; King, 174; Virginia, 60c; Savage, 90; Best, 54; Point, 45; Jacket, 90; Alpha, 55; Union, 94; Curry, 34; California, 15; Mono, 14; Belcher, 45.

MEXICO AND ARIZONA.
M. R. Peete's Murderers Supposed to be Discovered.

TUCSON, March 30.—It is concluded that the two rustlers tortally wounded in the fight at Chandler's ranch, were the murderers or accessory to the murder of young Peete at Charleston. The warrants upon which the Sheriff's posse were acting were only upon charges of horse stealing, which could not probably be maintained, and in defiance of an arrest on such a matter, it is not thought the rustlers would have resisted to the death. As one of them wore a hat much too large for him, and as a lost hat was found near the scene of the murder, the indications are that they were the guilty parties.

GUAYMAS, via Tucson, March 30.—The track on the Sonora Railway will be completed to Querobabi by Wednesday, and on Monday next the Tucson stage line will connect with that point. Owing to repairs needed, the steamer Mexico will not make the return trip, Mr. Birmingham having telegraphed to lay on the Newbern for April 6th.

R. B. Harper, purchaser of the Santa Gertrudis, came in on the Mexico with machinery for that mine, and work will be commenced there at once.

The Mexican shot by Sol H. Levi on the 6th is reported dead.

The steamer Sonora is daily expected with a General Carbo and troops.

Warm weather has set in, and 96° to 98° is the range.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Seth Daily, of San Diego, is at the St. Charles Hotel.

J. W. Bryen, of Santa Clara, is at the St. Charles.

J. G. Dashiell, of San Antonio, Texas, came in town yesterday.

J. H. West, as an expert, is working up testimony in the Lamb case.

A. H. Boswell and R. H. B. Preston, of Scotland, left for San Francisco last evening.

Officer J. E. Edson, of San Jose, who captured the famous Dick Fellows, is at the Pico House.

W. D. St. Clair, of the Chicago Times, who is stopping at the Pico House, made the Times office a pleasant call yesterday morning.

Mr. Volk, of the firm of Volk & Rose, San Jose, a prominent fruit dealer, intends coming to Los Angeles to go into business. He is an enterprising gentleman, and just the kind needed.

ARTESIA.

George W. Haines, of Artesia, is in town and reports that the outlook is very encouraging. A number of newcomers have settled in that district, among whom is Mr. Craig Moore, of Ottawa, Illinois. He is so well pleased with the country that he has sent for his family, with the view of locating permanently, and will purchase a home in a few days.

Projected Buildings.
W. R. Norton, the architect, is preparing plans for the following buildings:

A one-and-a-half story residence for Charles J. Fox, corner Olive and Third streets, to cost about $2,800.

A two-story house for Dr. Cochran, to be built on Olive street, between Second and Third, costing about $2,500.

A two-story residence in the Hogan tract, south part of the city, for E. H. McQuig, which will cost about $1,700.

A one-story frame building, containing eight rooms, to be built on Banker Hill Avenue for Geo. D. Rowan, costing about $2,200.

The Alumni.

The Associated Alumni of the Los Angeles High School met last evening at the photographic parlors of Payne & Stanton, in Downey Block. The class of 1882 decided to give a reception, the date not yet fixed. Theodore Savage was chosen orator and A. W. Edelman historian. As soon as the time is selected for the levee it will be announced in the Times.

Weather Report.

Observations taken by the U. S. Army Signal Service at 8:15 o'clock last night are as follows: Barometer, 80.21; Thermometer, 65; dew point, 63; wind, W, 1 mile per hour; cloudy. Maximum thermometer, 68; Minimum, 62.

Mashers Abroad.
Some sly dogs known as "mashers" are in town and spend their time annoying respectable young ladies with their persistent attentions. The first thing one of them will know somebody's big brother will "mash" him, and he will feel like a pancake well battered down.

Troconis, corner Spring and First streets, will soon be removed to make room for a brick building, hence Mr. Troconis will sell out all his stock at bedrock prices during the next thirty days. Dry goods and fancy goods, especially ladies' hats, lace ties, ribbons, etc., will be sold at a great sacrifice. See advertisement in "New To Day."

Mr. Wm. S. Allen, formerly in charge of Dotter & Bradley's branch store on Main street, and later in charge of their Spring street furniture warehouse, formerly Barker & Mueller's, has formed a co-partnership with Mr. O. T. Barker in the furniture and carpet business. They have large orders being filled in the East, of the latest designs in bed-room suits, parlor sets, etc. They expect to commence business about April 15th, in the large three-story building next to the Pico House.

CANNY SCOTCHMEN.

A "Times" Reporter Displays His Knowledge of Geography.

Yesterday a Times reporter bought two Scotch gentlemen at the Compositel Hotel for an interview, thinking that they might emit a few sparks of knowledge knocked out of the hard flint of their travels. After the preliminaries of introduction, and having announced his mission, the reporter was forestalled by a first-fire from the other side.

Reporter—A newspaper, sir, only a little less in size and circulation than the London Times.

Scotchman—Well, what is the London Times?

Rep—Oh, a small paper, a little larger than a pocket handkerchief, printed on the Arroyo Thames, in England.

Scotch—Where is England?

Rep—It is a little barren rock full of rocks and sunflowers next door to China.

Scotch—Where is China?

Rep—Down at the end of Los Angeles street.

Scotch—Well, we've got nothing to do with the newspapers, and shall say nothing through them.

Rep—Is that the way you do at home?

Scotch—Well, never mind how we do there.

Rep—Are there any more in your party?

Scotch—What's a party?

Rep—You are not tramping around the world, are you?

Scotch—Who sent you here?

Rep—My Chief; but how long have you been on the road?

Scotch—I met your Chief at Riverside.

Rep—How did you like the citrus fair?

Scotch—Well, I must excuse you.

Rep—Ta, ta, crystallized saccharine, fare thee well.

PASADENA.

An Entertainment—Personal The Lucky Man—Going East.

There is to be an entertainment at the school house hall on Saturday evening next, the proceeds of which are to be applied toward purchasing an organ for the use of the school. The programme will consist of readings, recitations, and vocal and instrumental music.

Still They Come.

W. A. Clinton, of Philadelphia, one of the proprietors in the firm of E. Clinton & Son, manufacturers and wholesale dealers in brushes, combs, hand mirrors, pocket knives, etc., has opened a branch store at No. 7 Commercial street, where the immense trade of the house in Southern California, Arizona and Sonora will be handled hereafter. A magnificent line of samples has already been placed on exhibition. This is one of the many straws showing the gradual change that is taking place in the commercial position of Los Angeles.

Thos. B. Gibson, formerly foreman with Messrs. Bothine, Dallame & Co., wholesale coffee and spice mills of San Francisco, arrived overland yesterday morning, and will shortly accept a similar position in connection with one of the new firms here, expecting to commence business in a few days.

Last evening about half-past eight o'clock a Chinaman named Ah Hing stole a robe from a buggy on Main street, near Spring. He was promptly arrested by Captain Ochs and lodged in jail with a charge of petit larceny booked against him.

A lively charivari was in progress early last night on Fort street, in honor of the marriage of Daniel Schickel.

The Ancient Order of Hibernians will give a grand ball at the conclusion of Lent on Easter Eve, April 10th.

A lodge of the Patriotic Order of Sons of America, is to be instituted in this place soon.

The bathing season has commenced at Santa Cruz.

COURT NOTES.

People vs. Shorb—The trial was resumed this morning and the following witnesses were examined for the prosecution: Mr. Francis Schickel (re-called), Maria Jaquay, John Horner, Dr. J. T. Lamont, Sarah J. Stearns, H. B. Lathrop, Barbara Massey, H. S. Brins and Chas. Muller. The prosecution here rested, and took a recess till half-past seven o'clock last evening.

Ayers vs. Ayers—The defendant, Mrs. Ayers, was allowed ten days further time to answer.

SETTINGS.

Estate of Kellogg, McFadden vs. Irvine, estate of E. Irvine, are all set for next Monday before Judge Howard.

The demurrer in the Fluor suit is overruled, and ten days allowed to answer.

Horne vs. Torr—The motion to dissolve the injunction was set for next Monday at 9:30 A. M. and notice is to be served on the plaintiff. The Court Commissioners were ordered to proceed immediately with the hearing of the case, and proceed till it closed.

Downey vs. Meiner—The motion to retax costs was taken under consideration.

Roberts vs. Los Angeles Oil Company. This case is continued by consent till Monday, May 1st, at 10 A. M.

Estate of Charles Flanagan, deceased. The petition for letters of administration was filed, and Monday, April 10th, was fixed by the Clerk of the Court for hearing and notices were posted.

Next Monday the following cases will come up: Brown vs. C. P. R. R., People vs. Medina, People vs. Verlarque.

The case was resumed at the appointed hour. The court room was well filled with an interested audience. Mrs. MacGregor, Mrs. Molloy and Dr. Cochran were examined for the defense. The points of their testimony have already been published in the Times. The court adjourned at half-past nine o'clock P. M. The case will probably go to the jury some time during the day.

THE MURDERED WOMAN.

The Autopsy Last Night Reveals But Little.

Yesterday afternoon Coroner Nadeau called a jury to inquire into the cause of the death of the Indian woman, Pulqueria Aroles. The following were the jury: E. A. Decamp, J. McClellan, J. F. Richardson, Joseph L. Meane, Thomas J. Bedford, and J. Boisson. Father Peter gave his testimony, which seemed to throw considerable light on the case. The jury then adjourned till to-day at 10 A. M. Last night Dr. Walter Lindly made a post mortem examination. No ribs were found broken, as had been reported, nor were there any outward signs of violence. The heart, lungs and kidneys were all found to be in good condition. It was ascertained that her death was caused by inflammation of the peritoneum, which is a thin, smooth, serous membrane investing the whole internal surface of the abdomen. The cause of this inflammation may have been violence. That is all the autopsy revealed. The report in the Times yesterday morning was correct in every particular, except as to the supposed breaking of three ribs. The examination found them uninjured.

Compton Farming.

Mr. John Taylor, of Compton, has just finished putting in forty acres of alfalfa in addition to the thirty acres which he already had. His brother, adjoining him, Mr. James Taylor, also has about sixty acres in the same crop, forty acres of which he has just finished putting in. They went into the business in a wholesale way, purchasing a ton of seed in one lot. Another season and these two gentlemen will be in condition to save the country from the effect of a drought. Mr. Taylor's crops, which he stocked less than a year ago, are now swarming with myriads of young fish, many of which have attained to a weight of above three pounds. He will soon be able to supply the markets with an excellent food fish.

The Meeting at Union Hall To-night.

Manufacturers, capitalists, business men and all others interested in this worthy enterprise, are urgently requested to be present at the adjourned meeting at 8 o'clock this evening. The axiom "what-ever is worth doing, is worth doing well," could not be better exemplified than in this movement, and every citizen interested in the welfare of Los Angeles should not fail to be present and assist in the organization of a society for the promotion of manufactures that will, if properly started, contribute materially to the upbuilding of the city. All classes are invited to attend and take an active part in the proceedings.

IMPOSING ON INNOCENCE.

The Ghostly Joke Fiend Will Not Breakers Ahead.

It appears that another imposition has been practiced upon the newspaper of this city. A notice appeared a week or so since, of the purported marriage of Mr. John Nickerson and Miss Lillie Bullis, of Compton. From what source it came cannot now be ascertained, but that it came in what was always considered a legitimate way there can be no doubt. Mr. and Mrs. Bullis, parents of the young lady in question, called at this office and stated that there was not a word of truth in the report, and they are anxious to know who was malicious enough to make up the statement. This thing of hoaxing the newspapers is becoming entirely too common and will bring some one into trouble if it is persisted in. There have been three such cases within a few weeks, and it is deemed to be a joke. First was a birth notice, for which there was no foundation; and now comes the marriage hoax noted above. If the names of any of these malicious jokers can be procured the Times will give them a little gratuitous notoriety.

Various Causes—

Advancing years, care, sickness, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition—all operate to turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely. AYER'S Hair Ointment will restore faded or deep black, as may be desired. It softens the scalp, giving it a healthy action. It removes and cures dandruff and humors. By its use falling hair is checked, and a new growth will be produced in all cases where the follicles are not destroyed by the glands decayed. Its effects are beautifully shown on gray, weak, or sickly hair, on which a few applications will produce the gloss and freshness of youth. Harmless and sure in its results, it is an incomparable hair dressing, and is especially valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

AYER'S Hair Ointment is colorless, contains neither oil nor dye, and will not soil or color white hair; it keeps it long and the hair, and keeps it fresh and vigorous, imparting an agreeable perfume.
